

About Moscow tax institute

In 2002, the National Research Institute of the tax system of the Federal Tax Service of Russia and the Moscow government decided to set up a higher education institution - the Moscow Tax Institute.

The purpose of the Institute was the training of highly qualified specialists in the areas of taxation, finance, management, accounting and law for public agencies and private businesses. And also maintain research and development in the field of economics, finance and taxation.

For many years, the Institute successfully solves its tasks.

During this time the Moscow Tax Institute has produced more than a thousand students who work in government agencies: the Federal Tax Service of Russia, Ministry of Home Affairs (Department of Economic Security), the Accounts Chamber of the Russian Federation, in the private, industrial, financial and trading companies. Published more than three hundred scientific papers, established a system of continuous education.